

Universal Curriculum

The U.S Bishops, in publishing the Directory for Catechesis in 2020, stated the following:

“...catechesis pursues several interconnected tasks that are inspired by the way in which Jesus formed his disciples:

~ he got them to know the mysteries of the Kingdom, taught them to pray, proposed to them gospel values, initiated them into the life of Communion with him and among themselves and into mission. “ (# 79-89)

These five tasks of catechesis form the framework for our curriculum for Pre-K - grade 8.

- Knowledge of the faith
- Initiating into the celebration of the mystery
- Forming for life in Christ
- Teaching Prayer
- Introduction to community life

In order that your child/youth understands, processes, and internalizes the Church teachings presented at each grade level, it is imperative that families ascertain attendance and participation at all levels. As you promised when your son or daughter was baptized: “You have asked to have your child baptized. In doing so, you are accepting the responsibility of training him (her) in the practice of the faith. It will be your duty to bring him (her) up to keep God's Commandments as Christ taught us...” (Order of Baptism #77,)

Pope St. John Paul II states in his Exhortation on catechetics, Catechesi tradendae, that the whole of catechetical work implies that collaboration must take place between Church authorities and parents:

“...the name catechesis was given to the whole of the efforts within the Church to make disciples, to help people to believe that Jesus is the Son of God, so that believing they might have life in his name, and to educate and instruct them in this life and thus build up the Body of Christ.” (#1)

This brochure has been prepared to equip parents with an understanding of the universal curriculum of the Diocese and how it relates to the formation in the faith of their children and youth.

Parents have the primary responsibility for the faith formation of their children. They also provide a witness to the faith as a family. The Church is obligated to provide them with full support in this endeavor. The universal curriculum of the Diocese of St. Augustine places the responsibility for faith formation on many shoulders. The universal curriculum, the areas of responsibility and general principles are based on the following documents, which will be found throughout this brochure:

Catechesi Tradendae (1979)

Catechism of the Catholic Church (CCC)

Code of Canon Law (Canon)

Local Policies

The Diocesan Bishop: By virtue of his office, the bishop is the chief catechist of his diocese “it is the responsibility of the diocesan bishop to issue norms concerning catechetics and to make provision that suitable instruments are available...and by fostering and coordinating catechetical endeavors.” (Canon 775 §1)

The Parish: “The parish is the Eucharistic community and the heart of the liturgical life of Christian families; it is the privileged place for the catechesis of children and parents.” (CCC§ 2226)

The Pastor: ...”the pastor is bound to provide for the catechetical formation of adults, young people, and children, ...the pastor is to promote and foster the role of parents in the family catechesis mentioned in Canon 774§ 2 (Canon 776)

The Director or Coordinator of Religious Education:

“Under the direction of the pastor, the competent and qualified catechetical leader has as a main responsibility to direct all of the parish catechetical programs for adults, youth, and children.” (NDC #54, 5)

The Parents: “Education in the faith by the parents should begin in the child’s earliest years...Family catechesis precedes, accompanies, and enriches other forms of instruction in the faith.” (CCC §2226)

History and Rationale of the Universal Curriculum

The National Directory for Catechesis in the United States (2005) called for a universal curriculum to be developed in each diocese. This universal curriculum is to serve those being educated in Catholic Schools, Parish Schools of Religion and those families who choose to homeschool their children. The NDC asked for uniformity in the curriculum for all areas. During the summer of 2009, work on the curriculum was unified for use in the diocese to bring it in compliance with the NDC as well as the current Catechism of the Catholic Church. This universal curriculum was approved in January 2010. This curriculum was again revised in 2018 and now has been updated again for 2024 reflecting the new Directory for Catechesis. (2020)

The rationale for the Religion Curriculum of the Diocese of St. Augustine is to assist the learner in understanding and responding to the fullness of the Christian life. The Church uses a systematic approach to teach the message of Jesus Christ. Each year of instruction builds on the previous year of instruction. Every year, children and youth are introduced to the same concepts at a deeper level as well as to new concepts which are age appropriate.

Like curriculum in other areas like math and science, there needs to be a continuity of presentation of the concepts of the Catholic faith without any gaping holes. It is vitally important and indeed the role of the diocesan bishop, the parish, the pastor, and the parents to ascertain that children and youth are not deprived of any part of the curriculum.
